Teilhard and Suffering:

Energy for the Growth and Transformation of Our World

Wednesday, March 20 @ 10:00 am - 2:00 pm

Paleontologist and theologian Fr. Pierre Teilhard de Chardin understood suffering as the inevitable result of an evolutionary universe. Absent from his work is the conventional wisdom that sees suffering as the result of sin, or of divine testing, or even an expression of the divine will.

Instead, Teilhard believed that enduring suffering generates great energy that can be used to bring about a loving world as described in Jesus' teaching of the Reign of God: "I came that you might have life—and have it abundantly" (John 10:10).

Join us this Lenten season and discover a new way to view suffering and your own role in using your sufferings to bring about God's vision of what creation can be: a kingdom of love, interconnection, and everlasting life.
